The facts that establish the grounds for issuing a warrant are:

Levi Russell has been employed with Kenai Police Department since June of 2008 as a sworn, commissioned police officer and has an Advanced Police Officer Certification from the Alaska Police Standards Council. He graduated from the Tanana Valley Campus Law Enforcement Academy in May of 2008 and during his employment as a police officer he has received on the job field training. He has received training in a broad range of topics including, but not limited to, criminal and statutory law, criminal procedure, search and seizure, and alcohol and drug related investigations. Officer Russell has been involved in several Driving Under the Influence investigations as a police officer, and has received training and experience regarding recognition and field sobriety testing of impaird drivers, Officer Russell has been a Drug Recognition Expert since July of 2014. Officer Russell is currently assigned as an investigator to the Statewide Drug Enforcement Unit unde rich Alaska State Troopers.

On Wednesday October 24, 2018 at approximately 1640 hours, Inv. Russell was advised of a suspicious passenger who was attempting to fly from Kenai to Anchorage. The passenger was identified as James Bowen (DOB /1993). Bowen arrived at the airport as his flight was boarding, he then went out to his vehicle, and missed his flight. Bowen did not request a refund and proceeded to buy a ticket to Anchorage on Grant Airlines with cash. Bowen was able to board the Grant flight and travel to Anchorage. Inv. Russell learned from Ravn and Grant Airlines that Bowen did not have any return tickets booked. Bowen left his pickup parked at the airport, Bowen's original ticket on Ravn Airlines was purchased by Holli Driver (DOB /1994). Driver has three convictions from 2016 for MICS IV for possessing a Schedule IA Controlled Substance. Bowen has a conviction from 2013 for attempted MICS IV.

On Octaher 19, 2018 hrv. Russell received a tip from KPD Lt. Langham that Nick Bowen, Bowes a brother, was suspected of setting heroin.

At approximately 1845 hours, Inv. Russell was contacted by the Kenai Police Department dispatch center. The employees at Grant Aviation contacted KPD when it was learned that Bowen had booked a one way flight back to Kenai and paid with cash. Bowen was scheduled to land in Kenai at 1930 hours. Inv. Russell learned that Bowen did not have any checked luggage on either of his flights but had a backpack for a carry on when he flew to Anchorage.

Based on Inv. Russell's training and experience and from speaking with other investigators. he knows that it is common for persons involved in the distribution of controlled substances in communities throughout the United State and Alaska to employ third party couriers or "mules" to transport controlled substances for them. This technique distances drug dealers from product in transit, and also limits the detection of controlled substance shipments by law enforcement because dealers use mules that may not already be known by law enforcement. In cases where a mule is employed, the mule's airline ticket is usually purchased by the dealer or another third party associated with the dealer (a third party). Upon delivery of the controlled substances the mule is usually compensated monetarily or compensated with user-quantities of the drugs that were transported. Mules will generally fly on "one-way" tickets so that law enforcement cannot antiolpate their return flights.

Inv. Russell and Inv. MacDonald were at the Kenai Airport when the Grant Flight that Bowen was traveling on landed. Inv. Russell observed Bowne enter the airport from the runway. Bowen was carrying a blue Dakine backpack. Bowen bypassed the baggage claim area and proceeded towards the exit. Inv. Russell contacted Bowen as he was exiting the building. Inv. Russell identified himself as Law Enforcement to Bowen, since both Inv. Russell and Inv. MacDonald were in plain clothes.

Inv. Russell asked to speak with Bowen and they went to an area of the airport that away from the crowds. Bowen stated that he had flown to Anchorage on Ravn Airlines and had nurchased a return ticket. Bowen stated he flew to Anchorage to visit with his father who was going to the slope the following morning. He stated he need to pick up somethings he left in Anchorage at his father's residence. He indicated he flew back on Grant because the flight left sponer.

Bowen stated that he was being picked up at the airport by his girlfriend. Bowen was confronted about the serious of events, specifically about flying to Anchorage on Ravn Airlines and how the characteristics of his trip were consistent with someone transporting
